Synergis Adds New Vice President, Professional Services and Information Systems to Expand Value Offerings

QUAKERTOWN, Pennsylvania, May 22, 2013— Synergis Technologies, Inc. today announced the promotion of Mark Mahovich to Vice President, Professional Services and Information Systems. Mahovich will continue to focus on the development and delivery of the Synergis' services offerings and implementation of enterprise tools for resource and customer management and improved business insight.

Mahovich was most recently Senior Director, Synergis Engineering Design Solutions Professional Services and IS where he has been instrumental in developing services and programs to meet customer engineering and business needs. During the 15 years Mahovich has been with Synergis, he has established himself as a leader, leveraging his industry knowledge to ensure Synergis consistently provides exceptional customer satisfaction in the delivery of professional services.

In this new role, Mahovich will also be charged with contributing to a number of key company-wide initiatives to benefit both customers and Synergis personnel. He will work toward expanding the capabilities of our knowledge resources and standardizing processes across teams.

“Mark has been instrumental in serving Synergis in a Senior Leadership role,” said David Sharp, CEO of Synergis Technologies. “He consistently demonstrates our corporate values and uses them as guideposts in his role as a director and connections with others. He has very clear win-win perspectives, wanting to see good things happen for customers and the Synergis team - consistently pulling for everyone’s success.”

Mahovich has over 25 years of engineering experience and has earned significant professional recognitions including being among the first to become an Autodesk Inventor certified expert and a Manufacturing Solutions implementation certified expert. He is a graduate of Penn State University with a bachelor of science in Mechanical Engineering.
